

Celebrating a model personality

Looking glamorous ... participants get all dressed up to put on a show at a special birthday party for longtime Bankstown personality, Mamma Lena Gustin, who celebrated her 89th birthday recently.

A SPECIAL 89th birthday party was held for longtime Bankstown personality, Mamma Lena Gustin MBE, at the Conca D'Oro Classic Lounge, Riverwood, recently.

A floor show, consisting of ladies and gents of the Punchbowl Catholic Group, together with family and friends of Sandra Demir, manager of Hartnell's World of Fashion at Bankstown Old Town Plaza, became models for the day, where they modelled more than 80 outfits ranging from casual to formal.

More than 250 people attended the birthday celebrations. It was obvious that everyone involved had a lot of fun creating a show with a difference, by showcasing how beautiful, wearable, and affordable Australian fashion can be.

"It makes a refreshing change to see real clothes on real people," the emcee remarked on the day.
